

Accessory Dwelling Unit: Adobe Home

This home is inspired by adobe architecture and Spanish mission architecture. A central courtyard brings in light and allows you to be outside without leaving the house. Since the majority of light comes in through the courtyard, the windows on the outer edges are placed higher which gives a sense of protection and privacy. The simple design, warm colors, and use of wood, adobe, and saltillo tile help create a comfortable and natural environment.

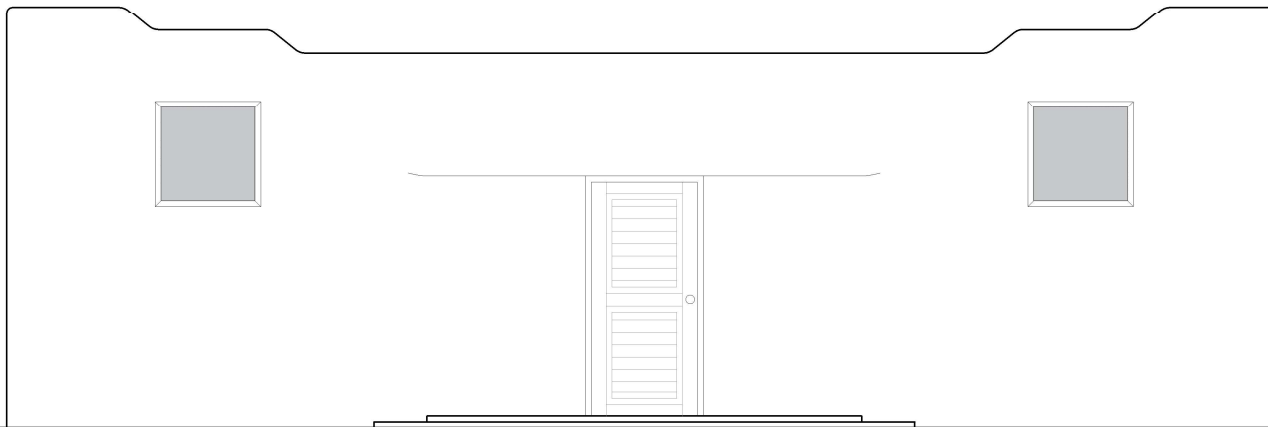

Diego Yañez-Laguna
MIT Department of Architecture

Adobe Home

Diego Yañez-Laguna
4.500
9 December 2020

1

Front Elevation

Adobe Home

Diego Yañez-Laguna
4.500
9 December 2020

2

Section

Adobe Home

Diego Yañez-Laguna
4.500
9 December 2020

3